Hope For Break In Coal Tieup Bleak Today

Operators, Lewis Appear Waiting For Other Fellow To Move

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—(AP)—Government labor advisers kept a close watch on John L. Lewis and soft coal operators today in hope of a possible break in the deadlocked coal dispute.

The last word from both the UMW chief and the mine owners made clear that each side was waiting for the other to make the first move.

Government officials, keeping hands off the situation for the time being, hoped that the possibility of a new strike at the end of this month would force either the mine leader or the operators to offer a new proposal for negotiations.

Ready To Talk

The United Mine Workers president said Sunday that he was ready to talk contract at the "convenience of the owners."

A spokesman for Northern, Western and commercial coal companies said the operators are waiting for Lewis to act. He indicated that mine owners are feeling the pressure of the 52-day miners' walkout which ended with a truce last week.

The three-week truce Lewis called in the main strike is due to end Nov. 30.

President Truman made clear at his news conference Thursday that he is prepared to use the Taft-Hartley act to halt a strike in an emergency. Lewis hates Taft-Hartley, which has provisions for 80-day court injunctions to stop strikes imperiling the nation's welfare.

The miners' chief is seeking a pay boost and a shorter work week for men in the pits, as well as an increase in the 20-cent-a-ton royalty financing the miners' pension fund.

On other strike fronts: Maritime: The threatened strike by AFL masters, mates and pilots against Atlantic and Gulf coast ship operators was postponed until midnight Dec. 15. Eastern shipowners prepared to resume negotiations with the union in New York. In San Francisco, government mediators attempted to avert a strike of the Sailors Union of the Pacific.

Transportation: An AFL transit union at Wilmington, Del., rejected a company offer to end the four-day strike which has halted buses and street cars in the city of 100,000. The Delaware Coach Co. offered a wage increase of five cents an hour.

Automotive: Because of steel shortages, due to the 42-day strike by CIO United Steelworkers, some auto plants are closed and others will be closed. Production of 1950 models is being interfered with and although the exact loss is undetermined, it will be extensive. One industry spokesman placed it at 475,000 vehicles.

Gets 60-Day Jail Term For Burglary

LISBON, Nov. 19—Thomas Roberts, alias Thomas Higgins, charged with burglary and larceny of the Clarence Peters home near Wellsville, will serve 60 days in the county jail.

Higgins, brought into court Friday, entered a plea of guilty to a larceny charge, that of petty larceny and trespassing, which plea was accepted by the prosecution. Higgins was sentenced to 30 days in jail on each charge, the terms running consecutively, and was ordered to pay the costs, including the two trips which Sheriff Clark made to Tennessee to return him to this county. Judge Sharp also fined Higgins $50 on the trespassing charge, and $200 on the petty larceny charge, but suspended both fines during the defendant's good behavior.

Olin and Lillian Brown of R. D. 4, Lisbon, were struck by a car at the intersection of State and Lincoln at 5:30 p. m. Thursday, police reported. The department said the accident was not reported until 11:50 a. m. Friday.

The couple was hit by a car driven by Charles Westfall of New Albany as he made a left turn from State onto N. Lincoln. Brown was knocked down and sustained contusions of the hip and abrasions of the elbow. Mrs. Brown suffered a bruised right leg.

The strike threat came to an unexpected end with a surprise announcement of an agreement eliminating layoffs over which Local 234 of the Transport Workers union (CIO) had threatened a strike Nov. 26.

Ground B-29s Pending Inquiry In Crash Causes

Adm. Sherman Says Crommelin Case "Closed"

Fiery Officer Won't Get Court Martial He Has Demanded

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—(AP)—Admiral Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operation, said today that the case of Capt. John Crommelin is "closed."

Officers said that means the reprimand administered to the fiery air officer stands, and he does not get the court martial he has demanded.

The case grew out of Crommelin's unauthorized disclosure of Navy documents relating to the controversy over the Air Force's B-36 bomber.

Sherman's office told reporters that "in the original letter of reprimand Capt. Crommelin was given opportunity to reply and he has made that reply."

That closes the case, it was said. In his reply, made public yesterday, Crommelin put the navy on the spot with new charges that Pentagon "zealots" with a "lust for power" have clamped Nazi-type controls over the defense department.

His latest blast against Pentagon policy raised this ticklish question for Naval officials:

Will the Navy stand pat on a stiff rebuke already handed Crommelin for his part in a scrap among the armed services—or will it let the whole bitter row over vital defense policies blaze up once more in a court martial?

Admiral Sherman seemed to answer that with his statement today.

Evidently Crommelin wants a court martial and Defense chiefs don't. The 48-year-old war hero insisted yesterday that either the reprimand should be erased from his otherwise sparkling record or he should be allowed to explain his actions in a court martial.

That was in a letter to Admiral Sherman, who gave Crommelin one public spanking Nov. 10.

Stop Lewis Before Dec. 1, Taft Urges

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19—(UP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio said today that President Truman should invoke the Taft-Hartley law before the Dec. 1 coal strike deadline "if it appears that John L. Lewis is going to call his men out again."

The co-author of the law, in an address over an Ohio radio network, said, "I think Mr. Truman ought to invoke the Taft-Hartley law."

"He ought to appoint a committee to report to him by the 30th of November and if it appears that Mr. Lewis is going to call his men out on the first of December, he ought to enjoin him and require them to go on working for 80 days while he tries to make a settlement."

The Senate Republican leader said, however, that he did not believe the President should seize the mines.

"I don't think he has any right to seize the mines and there is no reason to seize them," he said.

Mr. Taft said the new steel industry pension system of $100 a month "has produced a new pattern that will change the whole basis on which old age insurance has been paid." He added that he felt the settlement would affect legislation in congress on old age insurance.

Taft said, however, that "it is possible, in my opinion, to have a general universal old-age insurance plan that is actually sound because there is nothing in which you can invest the reserve."

Hiss Trial Strategy May Rest On Documents

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—(AP)—Strategy hinted by the defense and prosecution in the second Alger Hiss perjury trial has focused new emphasis on a batch of stolen government documents.

As the prosecution began unfolding its story of Red spying in Washington, both sides yesterday pointed to the secret papers as the pivotal evidence in the case.

While in the first trial the weight of the government case had rested on the testimony of ex-Communist Agent Whittaker Chambers, Chief Prosecutor Thomas F. Murphy told the new federal jury:

"The government will prove its case by the highest type of proof — by the immutable documents themselves."

By those same documents, Defense Counsel George B. Cross said, he would show that they were not pilfered by Hiss, former top-ranking State department official, but by another official.

Cross told the jury that the papers were fished by Julian Wadleigh and "a confederate" in the State department's Far Eastern division where Wadleigh was an aide.

Famed Newlyweds' Destination Secret

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19—(AP)—Those famous newlyweds, Alben and Jane Barkley, were headed South on their honeymoon today — their whereabouts not definitely known.

Late last night a report from Paducah, Ky., said a car believed to be the one the Vice President gave his bride shortly before their wedding was seen turning into "The Angles," Barkley's home near there. However, the couple's presence at the home could not be confirmed.

The Barkleys, who were married here yesterday at St. John's Methodist church, left early in the afternoon in the new convertible coupe for an unannounced destination. They were seen to cross the MacArthur bridge into Illinois, but there was no further word of them.

The Veep told reporters they were headed for a honeymoon in "Shangri-La," an imaginary, Utopian region. He declined to amplify, but intimated they were headed for the South, possibly Florida. Later they will reside in Washington.

Vandenberg Wants Investigation; Series Of Crashes Shocking

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—(AP)—A part of the nation's B-29 bomber fleet was grounded today while the Air Force launched an investigation into a series of crashes which have killed at least 12 men in the past 12 weeks.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff, issued the grounding order last night.

A few hours before the latest crash had killed five of a nine-man crew aboard a Superfortress which was taking off to help search for the 20 men aboard another B-29 missing off Bermuda since mid-week.

Six Down In 16 Days Six accidents have occurred in the past 16 days, with a known death toll of 35 and with the 20 men aboard the lost B-29 still missing.

Available unofficial records show that since Aug. 26, when 16 crewmen died after an engine caught fire in a takeoff from Hickman field, Hawaii, 27 Superfortresses have gone down with a death toll of 120.

While the Air Force declined to say at this time how many accidents have occurred since the war or during the last year, it once estimated that during a given year it could expect an average of 61 B-29s to be wrecked in crashes.

This estimate was given last year by officers testifying on the Air Force appropriation bill. Their reference was to loss of aircraft by all types of accidents, including ground accidents or crash landings which resulted in no casualties but made the airplane useless.

Vandenberg's order will have this effect: Any Superfortress used by the Strategic Air Command or the 19th bomb group in the Far East — unless all of its four engines have been "modernized" — is grounded until a detailed inspection can be made by technical experts.

Larger Part In Far East The greater part of all B-29s are used by either SAC or the 19th group.

A second part of the order grounds all B-29s which have been subjected to "maximum operating stresses," but this part of the directive does not apply to SAC and 19th group planes.

This is because any B-29 used by those operating forces customarily takes off heavily loaded, flies at high altitudes and high speed and otherwise undergoes "maximum operating stresses." Strict application of that order would have grounded the whole combat fleet of B-29s.

Therefore, the second part of the order apparently applied only to a relatively few B-29s used in rescue search or weather reconnaissance missions. And Vandenberg specifically exempted from both orders B-29s currently engaged in the search for the missing Superfortress.

Klatt Won't Comment On Ouster Demand

ALLIANCE, Nov. 19—(AP)—William A. Klatt, Trumbull county GOP chairman, had no comment today concerning a proposed "house-cleaning" of the county's Republican organization.

Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus — launching his campaign for the GOP nomination as governor — called for the ouster of Klatt yesterday.

Later, Klatt said he had "nothing to say at this time."

Rhodes, in a statement released to newspapers, said:

Wants Klatt Out "As county chairman in Trumbull county, Klatt has political pull, but his record shows he uses his office to secure favors for himself and his associates."

"Klatt should be driven out, forced to resign at once."

"Klatt was jailed Wednesday on charges of collecting $3,800 in helping a Cleveland to obtain a private club liquor permit in 1946. He later was released on bond. He disclaimed any wrong doing."

Bishop Manning Rites Tuesday

Retired Churchman Fought Easy Divorce

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—(AP)—Funeral services for Right Rev. William T. Manning, 83, who served as Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York for 25 years, will be held at noon Tuesday in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Bishop Manning, long-time foe of easy divorce, died in consequence of a bladder and kidney ailment at 5:10 p. m. Friday.

He entered the hospital Nov. 4 after returning from a vacation in Maine.

The British-born Bishop Manning played a major role in the building of the huge cathedral of St. John the Divine. He preached his farewell sermon there three years ago upon his retirement. It was a defense of "the sacramental religion of the Scriptures and the holy catholic church."

A firm upholder of marriage as a sacrament, he criticized King Edward VIII for leaving the British throne to marry a divorcee.

He also expressed belief repeatedly in the eventual unification of all Christian churches, and denounced lotteries, paganism and the joint income tax for married couples.

Two daughters, Miss Frances Manning and Mrs. Griffith B. Coale, survive.

Canon Thomas A. Sparks, of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, said the body would lie in state at the cathedral beginning at 6 p. m. Sunday until noon Tuesday.

Jaycees To Promote Christmas Seal Drive

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Columbiana County Public Health league, will place stenciled signs on the display windows of downtown stores to urge Salemites to use Christmas seals and help in the tuberculosis control program in Columbiana county.

Letters and cards have been sent to merchants asking their cooperation, and Jaycees hope they will receive cards from each merchant in Salem's downtown district so that every store will have a window stencil.

The stencils will be applied Wednesday evening and will be removed Dec. 26 by the Jaycees unless merchants want to remove them earlier.

Walter Minth, Ed Bush and Richard Zeck are in charge of the program.

Speech Instructor Hired For Schools

Miss Eleanor Burt, instructor at the speech and hearing clinic, Kent State university, is the new hearing and speech teacher for Salem public schools.

She will take up her duties the second week in January and continue through to the close of school in June. Miss Burt will be here two half days a week, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

This project is being financed by the Quota club, of which Miss Hazel Linn is president.

Miss Burt was hired at the club's dinner meeting Tuesday evening in the Memorial building. At this session, Miss Eleanor Gray, supervisor at the speech and hearing clinic, Kent State, who will act as consultant here, gave a talk in the interest of developing a hearing program in the Salem public schools.

Supt. of Schools E. S. Kerr, a guest, expressed his appreciation to the club for its interest in the schools. Miss Burt was also presented at this time.

Several years ago, the Kiwanis club purchased a audiometer which has been used by the school nurse in testing fourth grade pupils ever since. Now to expand this work, the Quota club is financing this new project.

Fears Death, Writes Note; Body Found

LISBON, Nov. 19 — John Knight, 84, found dead on the kitchen floor of his home, one-half mile south of New Alexandria, at 10:45 a. m. Friday, was believed to have died Tuesday, Sheriff Howard Clark said today.

"The body was found by Arthur Wickersham, a neighbor, who went to Knight's home to return some tools. Sheriff Clark, who investigated the death, said the death was evidently due to natural causes because a note scrawled by Knight and left on the kitchen table read:

"I think I'm going to die tonight. My left arm is cold and I cannot use it. I believe I'm going to have a stroke."

Sheriff Clark said death is believed to have occurred Tuesday night, as daily papers of Nov. 15, 16 and 17 were in the mailbox and lights in the kitchen were burning.

TRAFFIC INJURIES FATAL
ALLIANCE, Nov. 19—Elbert Baddeley, Sr., 45, died yesterday in City hospital of injuries received in a traffic accident in adjoining Mahoning county.

Deputy Sheriff Jay Dawson said a car, driven by Baddeley's son, swerved out of control after going through a pool of water in the road.

6 Auto Mishaps Investigated

One Injured In Intersection Crash

Six automobiles were damaged in accidents on city streets Friday, at least one of which was due to the wet condition of the pavement, police reported. One person was injured.

A car driven by John M. Walters of R. D. 4, Salem, was struck from the rear by a taxi operated by William Helmick of R. D. 2, Salem, at the corner of Broadway and Franklin at 6:35 p. m.

Walters' car was stopped, waiting for the traffic light. The trunk and panel were caved in and the right rear fender and rear bumper damaged on his car. The grille was caved in on the cab.

Walter H. Wisler of 999 Liberty st., said his car skidded on icy pavement and collided with a parked car owned by Ralph L. Herbert of Youngstown at 2:20 p. m. on Liberty st.

Damage was inflicted to the left front fender, grille, bumper and headlight of Herbert's car. The left front fender, grille, bumper and headlight were damaged on the Wisler vehicle.

Collide At Corner Two cars were badly damaged in a collision at the corner of Third and Ellsworth ave. at 1 p. m. Friday, with one person slightly injured.

The cars were driven by Rudolph Franks of Leetonia and Paul Williamson of 295 W. Pershing st. Franks was driving east on Third st. and crossed Ellsworth without stopping, witnesses said.

Williamson, moving north on Ellsworth, swerved east on Third to avoid the collision, but the Franks car hit his on the left side.

The right front wheel was torn off the Franks car, and the right side was smashed. Damage to the left side of Williamson's car extended from front to rear. The bumper, grille and hood were smashed.

Franks was treated at the Central Clinic for contusions of the head and right elbow. He was charged with reckless operation.

Couple Hit By Car Olin and Lillian Brown of R. D. 4, Lisbon, were struck by a car at the intersection of State and Lincoln at 5:30 p. m. Thursday, police reported. The department said the accident was not reported until 11:50 a. m. Friday.

The couple was hit by a car driven by Charles Westfall of New Albany as he made a left turn from State onto N. Lincoln. Brown was knocked down and sustained contusions of the hip and abrasions of the elbow. Mrs. Brown suffered a bruised right leg.

No Strike To Interfere With Army-Navy Game

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19 — The threat of a public transport strike which would have left this city afoot over the Thanksgiving weekend during the Army-Navy football game has faded out.

The strike threat came to an unexpected end with a surprise announcement of an agreement eliminating layoffs over which Local 234 of the Transport Workers union (CIO) had threatened a strike Nov. 26.

Want Your Brain Clear? Then Keep Your Seat Right

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19—(AP)—This is about sitting down while you work.

If you want your brain to stay clear, you need a personal chair, the Southern Medical association was told today.

"Chairs," said Dr. J. R. Garner, Atlanta, "should be as personal as your clothing."

They fit for proper sitting. And if you don't sit right, Dr. Garner said, some surprising things—mental, physical and psychological—happen.

In this personal chair your rear will extend out back a bit, to prevent coccyxitis. This refers to your coccyx, a pair of bones, like stubby stilts, just at the base of your spine. They aren't real sitting bones, but lots of people use them for that, said Dr. Garner. These puts an extra strain on the end of the spine. A properly designed chair bottom will also do the work of the rear overhang.

Need Curved Back

The chair back needs a slightly curving area to press forward into the curve of your spine. Keeping that curve in position to reduce pot-shaped corpulence.

The chair seat should not be long enough to press against the foldback of your knees. That puts the feet to sleep.

Your blood pressure goes up, said Dr. Garner, when you sit with the familiar forward slouch. Measured on 100 men the rise averaged five points each and on some was nine to ten.

Slouched, you breathe less air. The amount so lost is equivalent to the size of your desk in one day. Your heart action is embarrassed, breathing impeded, oxygen useless, more carbon dioxide stays in your body, and fatigue and ennui come on earlier.

Abdominal organs are pressed down to such an extent, said Dr. Gardner, that they form a basement pool for collection of poisons and bacteria, leading to rheumatic troubles. In women this same posture basement retards circulation in reproductive organs.

Spare Parts Airplane Flies Without Pilot

AKRON, Nov. 19—George Makzak spent three years building an airplane out of spare parts. Yesterday it took off—without Makzak.

He had started the engine and removed the wheel chocks. Before he could get into the cockpit the machine started flying, finally crashing into a plum tree. After surveying the damage, he announced he'd begin rebuilding the craft.

Next time he hopes to be in it on take off.

Community Chest Date Set In Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 19—The 1949 Youngstown Community Chest drive will be held February 1-10.

Originally scheduled for October, the campaign was postponed because of the steel strike. It was feared that a drive at that time would have fallen short of the $552,565 goal.

"Stop-gap" funds have been received from industrial and professional groups that will permit the 32 Red Feather agencies in the area to function until the drive opens.

The first English system of shorthand was devised in 1588, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Millikin Wants Spending Cut,

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—(AP)—President Truman's new mention of a tax boost as the only way to erase the federal deficit touched off fresh demands at the Capitol for a spending cut instead.

Mr. Truman repeated at his news conference that he knows of no way to balance income and outgo without raising taxes.

Senator Millikin of Colorado, senior Republican on the tax-writing senate finance committee, took issue with the President. "The way to balance the budget," Millikin told a reporter, "is to reduce spending and there is plenty of opportunity to do it."

Sees No Increase

"I don't think you are going to see any tax increase next year. In fact, there may be some cuts in excise taxes."

The excise levies are taxes on such items as jewelry, cosmetics, electric light bulbs, transportation tickets and telephone bills. The senate has a committee-approved bill on its calendar which would cut most of those taxes 50 per cent or more—back to 1942 levels.

Millikin said the general economy is in no condition to stand a tax increase. He added that it would "stifle the dynamic spending by business which is necessary for prosperity."

Millikin steered through the senate the $5,000,000,000 income tax cut bill which congress passed over Mr. Truman's veto in 1948. The President has blamed that reduction for most of the $5,500,000,000 budget deficit which the administration expects for this fiscal year, which began July 1.

Ray Millands Try To Adopt Child

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—(INS)—Screen Star Ray Milland and his wife, Muriel, are adopting a baby girl.

The Hollywood couple will appear before New York Surrogate Frankenthaler today to ask for permanent adoption of the five-year-old girl who has been living with them for a year.

The 41-year-old winner of a movie "Oscar" for his acting in "Lost Weekend" would not disclose the identity of the girl, not even her first name.

He said he and his wife had hoped "to keep her out of the lime-light until she was 12 years old."

They also have a son, Daniel, nine.

MERGE GROUPS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19—The American Heart association and the National Foundation for High Blood Pressure were merged here yesterday. The foundation will become a major council of the A.H.A. and will keep its administrative offices here.

Armor-plated battleships first were built in 1855, during the Crimean war.

Missing Ohio Girl, 16, Found In Atlanta

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18—(AP)—Blonde, 16-year-old Dorothy Jennings, missing since Monday, turned up yesterday in Atlanta, Ga., asleep in a railroad station. Policewoman Ruby Barrett, who found the blue-eyed girl, said she was "broke, dead tired and sleeping in the rest room at the railroad station."

The girl, daughter of a Cincinnati insurance executive, had been the object of a wide search after she disappeared upon being excused from an exclusive college preparatory school here because of illness.

Thanksgiving Day — 1807

Thanksgiving Day was an important event in the lives of the pioneer families of Salem. The underlying tone was one of reverence, and the jollification and feasting we associate with Thanksgiving was sternly repressed until after the four or five-hour religious service was over. Boys and girls — and even a few of their elders — squirmed and wriggled, tormented by the thoughts of the wild turkey and venison their fathers had shot a day or two before. Thanksgiving Day was a much more important festival than Christmas, for the German Christmas, with its decorated trees and presents, did not make its appearance in Salem until just about a hundred years ago.

This year many a Thanksgiving dinner throughout the United States will be prepared in a Youngstown kitchen, manufactured by Mullins, and many other housewives are deciding that next year they, too, will have Youngstown Kitchen convenience. But before they'll buy, they are going to shop around. Mullins employees know that the best way to make sure that jobs will be steady and secure is give the customers the most for their money. If the cash register doesn't ring, the factory whistle can't blow.

Committees Plan Gifts For Needy

When members of the Presbyterian evening committees, June, July and August, meet for a Christmas coverdinner party at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 6, in the church, each will bring a gift for a child cared for through the Red Cross or county welfare.

Plans for this Christmas get-together were made at a meeting of the executive committee Thursday evening in the home of the program chairman, Mrs. George W. Bunn, on Cleveland st.

The gifts are to be brought unwrapped, but the proper wrapping where-with-all will accompany each item. Sometime during the evening, a "wrapping" bee will be held with prizes for the most effectively wrapped package.

Miss Hazel Linn, executive secretary of the Salem Red Cross, expressed appreciation for the plans to make the packages as "Christmasy" as possible for the youngsters.

The cost of the gifts will be left to the discretion of the giver, but each package will be marked as to what it is and as to the sex, age or size of individual intended.

The July and August committees, headed by Mrs. Eugene Early and Mrs. Floyd McQuilkin, and Mrs. G. W. Smith and Mrs. John Crawford will have charge of the dinner arrangements, while the June committee, Miss Elinor Currier and Mrs. Lewis Hill, co-chairmen, will do the decorating.

An interesting and appropriate program is planned by Mrs. Alfred Fitch.

Just Sew Club Plans Christmas Party

Plans were made for a Christmas party Thursday evening, Dec. 15, when members of the Just Sew club were guests of Mrs. Richard Woner Thursday evening in her home, S. Howard ave. A gift exchange will add pleasure.

Sewing was the main diversion. The hostess served lunch at a table made attractive with a Thanksgiving theme. Mrs. Woner was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Lee Brewster.

Meeting Dec. 1, the members will be guests of Miss Bertha Zappone, S. Broadway.

Owen W. Rogers and family of Overlook dr. have moved to their newly purchased home near Unity. Mr. Rogers is employed in the Tozer store, East Palestine.

Shakespeare's Plays Is Sorority Theme

"Plays of Shakespeare" was the program theme for a meeting of Xi Pi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Robert Keller, W. Tenth st.

Mrs. John Holzwarth, president, gave a short review on "Midsummers Night Dream." Miss Carman McNicol's theme was "The Tempest," while Mrs. Martin L. Roth presented "Romeo and Juliet."

Mrs. Holzwarth, Miss McNicol, Mrs. Roth, Mrs. W. C. Ferrall and Mrs. Keller gave a satire on "Romeo and Juliet," which was well received.

Sixteen members responded to roll call. Mrs. Holzwarth reported the council meeting, and Mrs. Ned Massa, extension officer, also gave her report.

Members are invited to a tea and reception for the Hon. Frances P. Bolton at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the Hotel Cleveland ball room.

At 6:30 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 1, members will meet at the Holzwarth home, Cleveland st., and go from there to the Kemple factory, East Palestine. Following the visit at the factory, they will return to the home of Mrs. Rex Hundertmarck, W. Third st., for a business and social meeting.

Bethlehem Members Tell About Antiques

Miss Ella Beeson was in charge of an interesting program at a meeting of the Bethlehem class of the Methodist church Thursday afternoon in the church. Each member brought an antique and told its story.

Miss Beeson read the account of President Abraham Lincoln's assassination from an old newspaper. She also read articles from a McGuffey's reader.

Mrs. R. A. Ohl and Mrs. Willis Hole, president, sang a duet. Mrs. Roy Harris offered a story, "How He Saved St. Michael."

"Blessings of Life" was the roll call response. Twenty-six members and one visitor attended. Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkbride conducted the devotions.

The class voted to sponsor a Brownie troop another year. Mrs. William Shinn, Mrs. Blaine McClaskey and Mrs. John Davidson, hostesses, served lunch.

There will be a gift exchange at the Dec. 15 meeting in the home of the teacher, Mrs. E. J. Walton, N. Lincoln ave.

Letter From Japan Read To Church Guild

A letter from Miss Marjory Mayer, teacher in a Japan college, was read to members of the Wesleyan Service guild of the Methodist church at a meeting Monday evening in the home of Miss Eleanor McMurray, S. Lincoln ave. Mrs. C. W. Beck was associate hostess.

Miss Mayer is a daughter of Rev. Sidney Mayer, a former pastor of the Methodist church here. Mrs. Don Hammell was program chairman.

The hostesses served lunch. Dec. 12 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Burton Sutter, Jr., W. Pershing st.

Girl Scout News

New officers of Girl Scouts troop 8 have been named.

They are: President, Mary Mercer; scribe, Barbara Beery; Juliette Low representative, Sandra Chandler.

Patrol leaders are Susan Die-ringer, Heather Lozier, Carol McQuilkin and Mary Unger. The troop has completed 108 leather belts, which will go on sale at the Girl Scout Village fair, Dec. 2 and 3, in Memorial building. This work helped some of the girls to earn their leather badges.

Troop leaders are Mrs. Niles Pettay, Jr., Misses Mary Alice McBane and Betty Ward and Mrs. Edward Cormany.

Sisterhood Has Guest

When Peace sisterhood, Dames of Malta, met Thursday evening in the V. F. W. hall, Deputy Omega Walk of Akron was a guest. Tentative plans were made for a Christmas party and gift exchange.

Mrs. Margaret Sherwood, queen, officiated at the business session. Plans for the Christmas party will be completed at the Dec. 1 meeting.

Deming Girls Club Stages Jamboree

A blue jeans jamboree afforded fun for members of the Deming Girls club Thursday evening in Guilford grange hall.

Mrs. Kenneth Stewart and Mrs. Benson Miller "comedians" offered mirth-provoking features. The Cornetts band (Misses Verla and Della Weingart, Miss Virginia Nicholas and Mrs. Blaine Hart) entertained with musical selections.

Square dancing and games interested the group. Prizes were won by Miss Nicholas and Miss Bernice Cunningham. A horn of plenty graced the buffet table from which lunch was served.

Mrs. John Wagoner, Mrs. Fritz Crist, Miss Margaret Wright, Miss Audrey Anderson, Mrs. George Bergman and Miss Edith Sell arranged the party.

Club Holds Session

Mrs. Louis Schilling, Jr., of Salem, Mrs. Kenneth Hutcheson of R. D., Salem, and Mrs. W. A. McCrea of Alliance were guests of the B&M club at the Thursday afternoon session in the home of Mrs. Ray Stanley, R. D., Beloit.

At the close of the social period the hostess served a two-course lunch.

Plans were completed for a Christmas dinner Sunday, Dec. 18, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmor Engle, North Benfon. There will be a gift exchange for the women and a grab bag for the men. Families of the members will be included.

Welcome Wagon Holds First Anniversary

One of the most enjoyable meetings held by the Welcome Wagon Newcomers club was that Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Harold Hyatt, Highland ave.

Observing the first anniversary of Welcome Wagon in Salem, its hostess, Mrs. Vesta King, was presented a birthday cake topped with one large orchid candle and a corsage of orchid pompons. Mrs. Hyatt read a devotional poem.

Mrs. W. J. Seeman and Mrs. Wayne Wilson, two of the sponsors, were welcomed by Mrs. Edward Cormany, president. A report of the rules committee was read. Bridge and canasta were favorite games.

The Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. Rita Pittman, E. State st., with Mrs. Cormany associate hostess.

Always A Reason

As the public again sees federal deficits being viewed as inevitable, there is a momentous difference in its attitude.

The first viewing of deficits was during the 1930's when the federal government, slowly and reluctantly at first, then more rapidly as the intoxication of spending took hold, began to spend more money than it could collect. The introduction of deficit financing in peacetime was a momentous move. But as time passed and nothing happened, it became a familiar policy of government, justified by the circumstances of economic depression and the federal government's assumption of costly responsibilities formerly borne by individuals, local governments, or in many cases not borne by anyone at all. It was easy to believe that recovery from the depression would reverse the flow of money and the government would recover its shortages. Only pessimists worried about war.

But war occurred. Deficit financing was stepped up. When the war was over, the deficit had reached such fantastic proportions that no one could comprehend its size any more. It was just a string of ciphers—like the number of light years to the nearest stars. But hope perished—hope that the end of the war would enable the government to recover its shortages. Only pessimists worried about peace.

But peace, too, brought problems. It's plain now that the United States will not recover its shortages. It's plain that deficit financing is no longer a temporary thing but a permanent policy of a government that has lost control of its own finances. The deficit is no longer something to be endured philosophically until things improve but something that can't be set aside short of a major upheaval in public affairs. To be sure, there's a reason: Peace is costing more than it was expected to cost. But there's always a reason for spending in excess of income. Every individual, every family and every government that ever went broke has found that out.

Godse And Apte

Every journalist has moments of yearning for immortality beyond the reach of his flying pen or his throbbing typewriter. Narayan V. Godse and Narayan B. Apte, young writers feeding the fires of Indian nationalism, must have had such moments. Perhaps they were yearning for immortality when they killed Mohandas K. Gandhi as he walked to prayer in a New Delhi garden on Jan. 30, 1948. They and their accomplices believed, as all self-willed assassins must believe, that their mission was for the ultimate benefit of mankind. They killed Gandhi to help their cause.

Godse and Apte were hanged this week for their crime. Five accomplices were sentenced to prison for life. A sixth was acquitted and set free. It had been hard to seek vengeance for the death of a saintly man who devoted his life to a crusade against violence, only to lose it in the end through an act of violence. Godse and public officials, to satisfy the law, not the multi-Apte were executed in the presence of a few tude.

Perhaps they will have been forgotten a hundred years from now. But perhaps not. One of the ironies of history is remembrance by association—two criminals still remembered after almost 2,000 years because they, too, were at Golgotha on a fateful day.

Roving Reports

THE MAN in the black beret is coming to America.

It's the most famous beret in the world, and the man who wears it so jauntily is one of the world's most renowned warriors—Field Marshall Viscount Montgomery.

He arrives Monday on the Queen Elizabeth to talk to American military leaders on defense measures for Fortress Europe. For at 62 that is Monty's job as supreme commander of the Western European alliance—to erect a defense against Russia.

What's he like, this "hero of El Alamein?" Well, he's the most controversial soldier alive, and as hard to describe as a coin—which has two sides.

There's the legendary Monty, a grinning, reckless apostle of the principle of attack. And there's the Monty of fact, a cautious careful planner reluctant to take the offensive unless victory be practically guaranteed in advance.

A bishop's son and deeply religious, Montgomery is widely disliked in his own nation's old guard military circles for his cocky swagger and brash self-confidence. These same qualities endeared him to the British public. He was their Patton, and second only to Patton as a colorful personality.

THE SLENDER, fastidious little soldier won his spurs as a captain in the first world war during which he was twice wounded and six times cited for gallantry.

In the second world war he learned the lesson of defeat as a major general in the retreat from Dunkerque, and the lesson of victory at El Alamein.

He got his chance in the Libyan desert by accident. A plane carrying another British officer to take over command of the Eighth army was shot down by the Germans. Montgomery, a com-

Aerial Friction

Highway traffic experts adopted the word "friction" many years ago to describe accidents caused by collisions between vehicles. Traffic friction has been reduced since then by many devices, principally the separation of lines of moving vehicles. Some of the commonest methods are boulevards, underpasses, express highways and plainly marked traffic lanes. If these things hadn't been done systematically, the highway traffic problem would be completely out of control. Friction is the prime killer on the highways.

It unexpectedly has put in its bid for the same grisly distinction in the air. The newest common cause of aviation accidents is collisions between planes. Everything that traffic engineers have learned about highway friction now must be transferred to the problem of aerial friction. Such drastic orders as the one clearing Washington National airport of combat planes, because a combat plane crashed into a commercial passenger plane and caused aviation's worst disaster a few weeks ago, will become common. It will be as unthinkable to endanger the lives of plane passengers by overt hazards of friction as it would be to ram a crowded bus down a one-way street at top speed.

Looking Backward

From The News Files

FORTY YEARS AGO—President Taft's Thanksgiving proclamation was issued, as usual, from the State department, where it received the official seal of the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson of S. Lundy st. will give a pedro party Wednesday in honor of their guest, Miss Grace Tanner of Orrville.

The crew of the westbound Cleveland flyer reported at the local depot Tuesday that a dead man was lying close to the tracks near Sell's crossing, east of here. Investigation disclosed that a pile of old clothes caused the report.

Mrs. Frank Stewart of Jennings ave. was surprised on her birthday by neighbors and friends.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—An interesting dinner frock is of black velvet with a rounded neck and the merest hint of sleeves. Its one trimming is a long and narrow front panel of chiffon, lightly but brilliantly embroidered with rhinestones which fall straight from the neck to a point three inches below the hem.

Tax reductions and farm relief legislation are not likely to be issues at the coming session of Congress.

Repeal of an old statute, enacted by the Ohio legislature before the Civil war to curb horse stealing and carried into the latest codification of Ohio laws, will be recommended by investigators of the recent Klan and anti-Klan rioting in Niles. The Klan has organized their own police force under the authority given in this law.

TEN YEARS AGO—The prime minister of the Netherlands made a radio speech saying "there is not a single ground for uneasiness" in the nation or empire despite "many rumors causing alarm" in the past few days.

British sources asserted that King George's reply to the Netherlands-Belgian peace move meant Britain would "insist on full reparation of wrongs done by Germany to her small neighbors."

A new knife-like wing on the world's fastest airplane, a strict military secret, will permit speed of 500 miles per hour or more, faster than sound.

Mrs. Ellen Atkinson and children of E. Second st. visited Sunday with Mrs. Damon Vaughn and family in Carrollton. The Vaughns formerly lived in Salem.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Senators talked behind the backs of their hands about a possibility that James F. Byrnes might become secretary of state if Secretary Hull is too ill to return to his job.

American fighting men were on three sides of the Japanese Leyte spearhead thrust north from the port of Ormoc and threatened to cut the spear from the shaft.

Three more of the vaunted forts guarding Metz fell as the American Third army offensive closed to within a mile and three-quarters of the citadel city from the south.

By Hal Boyle

paratively unknown lieutenant general, then was sent over.

"You can stop digging—the Germans aren't going to get this far," he told his troops.

His "desert rats" stopped the German attack, then defeated Rommel at El Alamein. Overnight little Monty became the empire's greatest hero. Methodically he chased the Nazi Afrika corps 1,400 miles to a German version of Dunkerque on Cape Bon in Tunisia.

Montgomery also led his Eighth army in the Sicilian campaign and in Italy. Later he met and defeated Rommel again as commander of Allied ground forces in the invasion of Normandy.

A GERMAN tank commander said of him: "He is a hard man and ruthless in gaining his objective."

Monty always had as his axiom before attack: "Let's tidy up the battlefield." That was his way of saying, "Let's be sure we're ready."

Kay Summersby, former secretary for General Eisenhower, has written since the war that Monty caused like "more worry than any other one individual in the entire Allied command" by repeated demands for more men and supplies before launching an offensive.

But like himself said Montgomery's conduct of the Normandy operation was "masterly." Supremely sure of himself, Monty shrugs off criticism easily. And he can afford to. He never lost a campaign after Dunkerque.

"I am not a bit anxious about my battles," he said once. "If I'm anxious I don't fight them. I wait until I am ready and then there is no doubt."

His genius for winning the heart of the British common soldier was exemplified by a number of reforms he instituted in his post-war army.

"Why shouldn't the soldier read in bed if he wants to?" said Monty. "I always do."

Monty is reported to have told Churchill once that he was 100 per cent fit because he neither smoked nor drank. The pudgy prime minister's reply: "I smoke, I drink, and I'm 200 per cent fit!"

Perhaps We Should Get an Experienced Driver!

What Spying For America Means

By Clarke Beach

WASHINGTON
AMERICA'S old-time spies seem picturesque in retrospect. They had none of the large-scale organization and efficiency of our modern espionage system, the Central Intelligence Agency. They worked only in wartime; that helped give them glamor.

Spying was largely a one-man or one-woman operation. The national favorite is young Nathan Hale, the Connecticut school teacher and Yaleman who became a captain in George Washington's army. He crossed into the British lines in the disguise of a Dutch school teacher to obtain military information. He was captured and hanged the next day.

"Only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country," the patriot is reported to have said before the noose tightened. Perhaps the young scholar was recalling a line from Joseph Addison's play "Cato"—"What pity it is that we can die but once to save our country."

ANOTHER BRAVE but less well-known spy for Gen. Washington was Col. Barton. He and a few soldiers disguised as non-combatants penetrated the British lines and captured Brigadier Prescott. They brought Prescott back to Washington, who held him as a prisoner for some time.

Then there was Pvt. Charles Morgan, who spied on Cornwallis' army as an agent of Gen. Lafayette.

Two women became famous as spies on opposite sides in the Civil War, the Union's Emma Edmonds and the Confederacy's Belle Boyd, who saved Stonewall Jackson's army by giving him timely information.

Allen Pinkerton and his famous detectives ran an extensive spy system for the Union army. Pinkerton and his men became famous when they foiled a plot to assassinate President Lincoln in 1861. Pinkerton after the war maintained a private detective agency. But out of his wartime organization grew the U. S. Secret Service.

THOMAS BEACH, an Englishman who fought on the Union side in the Civil War, spied for the British in this country in the 1860s and 1870s. His job was to keep Britain informed of activities of Irish agitators on this side of the Atlantic, who at one time tried to invade Canada. With the alias of Maj. Henri Le Caron, Beach joined Irish-American societies, earned the confidence of fellow members and then betrayed their plans to his employers. Beach's type of work leaves a bad taste in the mouth of historians who admire most wartime spies.

The Secret Service earned quite a reputation as spy hunters during the Spanish-American War, breaking up one notable Spanish spy ring in this country. The organization also had charge of anti-espionage work in the first World War. But since then it has had little to do with such activities. The Secret Service is normally charged with guarding the President and enforcing certain laws concerning the U. S. Treasury, like catching counterfeiters.

THE FEDERAL BUREAU of Investigation had charge of counter-espionage and anti-sabotage work in the last war. It also extended its counter-espionage and intelligence work to Latin America for the duration of the war. The espionage work in the last war was done by the armed forces and the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). Many hair-raising tales came out of post-war publications of OSS.

Spying is as old as history. You read about it in the Bible. The English are said to have created their intelligence system about 1330. Edward III established it so he could learn about continental intrigues. He was interested in promoting his little kingdom's foreign trade, and he found he needed to know what was being planned and plotted in the courts of Europe.

America about 600 years later has reluctantly set up a peacetime intelligence agency, partly for similar reason—for guidance in playing successfully its new role as a leader in world affairs.

Alma Mater

By TRUMAN TWILL

THE heart-throb of the year is Alma Mater. She has been chosen unanimously by members of the pigskin set as the one they adore. Their eyes will e'er be turned in her direction, they chant at weekly intervals. She is, in fact, dearer to them than life itself—or that's what they keep saying over and over again.

This is no dissent from the proposition that Alma is sweet stuff. When total strangers leap to their feet and freeze in reverent attitudes at the mere mention of her name, the kid must have class. She must be further bearing. And it behooves all of us to know what it is that makes "her children," as they call themselves, wheeze and moan; that makes even absolute strangers show more reverence than they show for Miss Liberty—the girl of their dreams.

Alma Mater has been around as long as Mae West. She's what you might call a cosmopolitan, and pardon the expression. By birth she's Eurasian, which makes her an exotic babe, somewhat in the manner of Dorothy Lamour before she settled down to raise a family and take singing lessons. Her middle name is Cybele, though intimate friends also know her as Ceres.

But there's a mystery about Alma. Though her admirers insist she always will be cherished, loved, enshrined and so on, Alma is no chicken. As far as her own academic background is concerned, it's an established fact she has been enrolled at various times in such institutions as Mt. Ida, Mt. Sipylus, Sardis and Pessinus, the last-named being an advanced training school for sweetheart of Sigmund Pie, who was the founder of the modern school of perpetual adoration.

By rough estimate, Alma must be old enough to be the grandmother of Methusalem; who is not a Fordham blocking back but a distant relative. One of her jeune

No Holds Barred At The Opera

THE Metropolitan Opera opens its sixty-fifth annual season at the same old Broadway stand come Monday night, and the cops on the beat will be armed with good strong butterfly nets for the occasion.

Recent openings of the Metropolitan, combining a mixed melange of sopranos, cafe society strip tease artists and balancing acts, has given rise to a new question in the old opera house. The old query, "Is there a doctor in the house?" has been replaced by the more terse and modern "Is there a psychoanalyst present?"

The Met opening, which was a dull dish in my salad days, has perked up immeasurably in recent years since the extroverts took it over, lock, stock and barrel tenors.

When I covered my first Met opening 21 years ago come "Rigoleto," the big news of the event was whether Mrs. Vanderbilt more her diamond stomacher or her necklace, or went whole hog and came in both.

But no venerable belle can expect to get her name on the front pages next Tuesday morning unless, on opening night, she stands on her noggin, heists a leg up on the bar or smokes a corn-cob pipe in the lounge.

LAST YEAR, if my shaken memory holds, a brace of ladies lavishly shed their diamonds to the accompaniment of shrill cries, police reports and mighty satisfactory front-page accounts of their losses.

One of these hapless ladies was so overcome by the heat in the lounge, where she was sipping champagne to ease the tedium of the music, that she slipped off her diamond rings to cool off.

And land sakes! Didn't she clean forget and absent-mindedly put her own ice in the ice bucket accompanying the champagne! Probably never would have seen the ring again if some waiter hadn't picked it up and started chipping it into smaller pieces, to pack in another bucket of the bubbly.

Then there was the grande dame who brought her sparring partner with her. Did a fast round in the bar between acts. Funny as anything you ever saw on television.

What the head-line hunters will do to attract attention come Monday night is anybody's guess. But I am willing to bet that no matter how wild your guess, it won't be half as outlandish as the stunts these aging Katzenjammer Kids will think up for their own.

There is a tendency on the part of the Old Guard, including the officials of the Metropolitan, to deprecate the Folies Bergere ovation of recent openings, and to sigh for the old days.

Nonsense, say I. Refinement is for yokels. Big city folks want fun. Until the audience began to get into the act, an opening at the Metropolitan was for yawns or long-hairs. Now, anybody can play.

WHY SHOULD the soprano, up there on the stage yelling her head off, have all the fun? It's time the aging delinquents in the audience cut themselves in on the high jinks.

Once more the well-bred management of the Metropolitan has sent a letter to city editors of all New York newspapers and syndicates, asking their "cooperation and assistance" in seeing that stories and pictures of the opening night festivities are "in keeping with the time-honored reputation" of the opera house.

This current missive by Margaret Carson, the Met's pretty press agent, is a follow-up of a similar but longer letter sent out a year ago by Mr. Edward Johnson, manager of the Met, asking the press to ignore "the actions of any few patrons who may be lacking in good manners and good taste."

I take issue with Miss Carson and Mr. Johnson. Since the city closed up the burlesque houses some years ago, where can the people have a Roman holiday except at Met openings?

A few more years of really bang-up shenanigans and who knows? I am tempted on Monday night to offer $100 to the first beldame who can slide down the banisters, astride, without tipping her mitt or her tiara.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Acute Appendicitis Is Serious

EVERY so often it is necessary to repeat the warning that acute appendicitis is a serious disease and that there are still too many deaths resulting from it each year. Although modern, prompt treatment—usually by surgery—has greatly reduced the danger from appendicitis, the taking of cathartics or failing to make a diagnosis early enough can bring serious results.

The pain accompanying appendicitis is often not as severe as people expect it to be. This is particularly true in older people. The result is that people often ignore it for several days and by that time the appendix may have ruptured and caused peritonitis.

Occasionally the appendix, instead of lying near the front of the abdomen on the right side, may be twisted towards the back so that the only symptom is back pain. The appendix can lie in some other part of the abdomen and it is not safe, therefore, to think that pain which is on the lower right side is the only kind which can mean appendicitis.

The use of cathartics or laxatives is dangerous. A laxative causes the wave-like motions of the intestines to increase. Large waves hasten the rupture of an acutely inflamed appendix. When this happens peritonitis develops—a very serious complication indeed. Laxatives should be avoided if there is the slightest suspicion of appendicitis.

No chances should be taken with this important disease. In recent years penicillin has often been given before operation and afterwards, and this seems to make the recovery somewhat easier. Recovery if operation is done promptly is almost certain.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Those unable to attend the Barkley-Hadley wedding can see it on television but single girls are requested to please not lean into the set to catch the bride's bouquet.

A political historian says Mr. Barkley becomes presidential timber by marrying but this may not be strictly accurate . . . we have married men who have spent years trying to get elected president.

Probably he meant a married Democrat has a better chance than a married Republican . . . matter of fact a single Democrat could spot any Republican eight wives and still bounce into Blair House.

That is, in the prevailing market.

Anyway the Barkley-Hadley romance may not be the romance of the century but it sure looks like it moved the center of interest to St. Louis from Stromboli.

It took a fellow from Kentucky to show Rossellini how to sweep a girl off her feet into a convertible coupe . . . he's still bailing out his rowboat.

Hell hath no fury like a woman not a home when her phone rings in a radio jacket contest.

Theater Work To Begin Soon

Scout Awards Won By Columbiana Men

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 19.—Construction work on the new Manos theater at the northwest corner of the Public Square is scheduled to begin Monday or Tuesday when a power shovel will arrive.

Drilling of the well to be used in connection with the air conditioning system has been completed at a depth of 120 feet. No contract has been let. Manos Theaters, Inc., is having the work done.

On account of the holiday Thursday, Columbiana stores will remain open all day Wednesday instead of closing for the afternoon.

Mrs. James Lindsay of Brownie Troop 12, Girl Scouts, of Salem was the speaker at the meeting of the brownie troop of the Methodist church and their mothers this week. The troop will meet at the church Monday afternoon at 3:45.

Mark Klingensmith of the Union Bank is chairman of the Christmas seal sales for Columbiana and Fairfield township to begin Monday.

New Brownie Troop

A meeting of girls for the organization of a brownie troop of Girl Scouts, under the sponsorship of Jerusalem Lutheran church Daughters of the King, will be held at the church at 4 p. m., Wednesday. Organization was decided upon at a meeting of mothers in the church Wednesday evening.

Certificates were awarded seven Columbiana men this week for having completed the Boy Scout leaders' training course, which was conducted Wednesday evening at Pavilion 4, Firestone park.

Columbiana men who received certificates were Grant Culp, Clyde Maurer, George Robertson, Darrel Geiger, D. W. Bailey, Wilbur Garrod and Edgar Moser, Jr. Larry Stacey, who attended every session, will receive his certificate when he attains the age of 18.

An average of 27 men attended the course, and 17 received certificates. Those who did not receive certificates may complete requirements at some other course in this vicinity.

After 40 years' service as custodian of the Union Bank, William Barr has resigned on account of failing health. He is succeeded by C. R. Rapp.

Firestone Legion post auxiliary will begin soon its annual magazine campaign to raise funds for additional hospital equipment for county-wide use. At the December meeting Wednesday evening, Dec. 21, a covered dish dinner at 6:30 will be followed by a gift exchange.

Mrs. Waldo J. Bartels, wife of the pastor of Grace Evangelical and Reformed church, attended this week the triennial meeting of the National Women's Guild in Cleveland as delegate from the Northeast Ohio Synod of the denomination.

"Loyalty Sunday" Set By Lutherans Tomorrow

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—The American Lutheran church today completed plans for a nation-wide "Loyalty Sunday" observance tomorrow in the denomination's 2,008 congregations in the United States and Canada.

The church said it hoped to have 482,000 worshippers, or nearly 100 per cent of its membership, at Sunday services.

The American Lutheran church had a confirmed membership of 482,887 on January 1 in 38 states and in five provinces of Canada.

Thanksgiving All Year Round

A MAN I KNEW only casually came into my office at the church one day. He was obviously upset; his clothes were rumpled, he needed a shave; his eyes were bloodshot.

"Doctor," he told me, "I'm going to kill myself. Everything is going wrong. I just can't take it any more."

I asked him to sit down in a comfortable chair. Then, I reached into my desk, took out a large pad and a pencil and handed them to him.

He looked at me, puzzled.

"Draw a line down the center of that pad to make two columns," I said.

He did as I suggested.

I said, "Put at the top of the left hand column, 'Things that have gone wrong.' Put at the top of the other, 'Things that have not gone wrong.'"

He did as I suggested.

"Wonderful. Then you can write 'My wife has not left me' in the other column. Now, let's go on. Write in the first column, 'My two children are in reform school.'"

1889--SIXTY YEARS OF SERVICE--1949

Doll Dress Prizes Won

Mrs. Margaret Hannay of E. Third st. was awarded the first prize in the doll dressing contest conducted by City hospital auxiliary in connection with the benefit Friday in the Masonic temple. The doll was dressed in a white satin majorette uniform.

Mrs. Frances Hurst of Youngs' town and Mrs. Wallace King of S. Union ave., won second and third prizes, respectively. The prizes were $20, $10 and $5 and they were donated to the auxiliary.

Approximately 300 persons patronized the turkey dinner, while several hundred more visited the benefit during the afternoon and evening.

Music was provided by the Methodist orchestra, under the direction of Donald Dusenberry, with Mrs. Dusenberry, accompanist; Mrs. Melvin A. York, Mrs. E. T. Coyle and Mrs. Wilbur Schnurberger, pianists, and Robert Dunn and William Schuler, trumpeters.

Other features which attracted interest were a movie, depicting the reduction of fractures, and exhibits of hospital supplies and equipment.

Mrs. Harold A. Zealley is president of the auxiliary. Mrs. R. R. Miller was general chairman for the benefit.

Mrs. D. Eugene Parks, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ollman, E. Third st., will return Sunday to her home in Mt. Morris, N. Y.

Mrs. Whitton Hostess To Butler Circle

Mrs. Finley Rhodes and Mrs. Byron Zimmerman were welcomed as new members when Mrs. J. W. Whitton of Homewood ave. opened her home Friday afternoon to members of the Esther Butler circle of the First Friends church.

Officers were elected for 1950 as follows:

President, Mrs. Charles Lantz; vice president, Mrs. Dessie Scullion; secretary, Mrs. Sylvester Jackson; assistant secretary, Mrs. Henry Landwert; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Whitton; treasurer, Mrs. John Shaffer.

Mrs. Scullion read a "thank you" letter from Mrs. Crouch, wife of Rev. Crouch, pastor of the church at Oswego, N. Y. "Be Ye Thankful" and "Thanks With Giving" were the titles of readings by Mrs. Shaffer.

Mrs. L. E. Allen read an original poem entitled, "Thanksgiving," written by Mrs. Francis Rice of Cleveland Bible college, formerly of Salem. "The Bible Also Rises" was the theme of Mrs. Harry Gardner's article.

Mrs. Whitton and her associate hostess, Mrs. Shaffer, served lunch.

Missionary Projects Theme Of Circle

A unique program centering around home and foreign missionary projects, lent inspiration to a meeting of the Elsie Matti Missionary circle Thursday evening in the First Friends church.

Mission work in India was represented by Miss Carrie Wood of Portland, Ore., who was retired after 40 years of service, while Dr. Walter R. Williams of Damascus, missionary in China for years, presented the work in that country.

Booths were set up dividing the entertainment. Mrs. Harold B. Winn impersonated an official in the Friends Rescue home; Rev. Winn was cast in the role of "president" of Cleveland Bible college, while Miss Martha Coulson, president of the circle, posed as an official of the Bethany orphanage in Bethany, Ky.

Miss Marjorie Zeller served as "guide" to the members and their guests on a "tour" of these institutions. Miss Zeller assisted Mrs. Harold Tolson, program chairman, who arranged this feature. When the refreshments were served, Dr. Williams demonstrated how the Chinese eat with chop sticks.

Class Shown Pictures

Travel pictures provided entertainment when members of the Beacon Light class of the Nazarene church were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gotthardt Friday evening at their home in East Palestine.

Rev. E. M. Parks, pastor, is the teacher. Clifford Anderson was the devotional leader.

Lunch was served to 35 members and guests. A Christmas dinner party was planned for Friday evening, Dec. 16, at Greenford grange hall. There will be an exchange of gifts.

To Give To Needy

The Friendly Neighbors club will make Christmas donations to some needy families. This was planned when the members met Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Leo Mundy, Goshen rd. Game prizes were awarded Mrs. Bruce Shasteen and Mrs. Maude Getz.

Mrs. Paul Dean assisted the hostess in serving lunch.

Dec. 12 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. George Stapleton, Goshen rd.

Society Is Guest

Eleven members of the Sunshine society were guests of Mrs. Howard Milligan Thursday afternoon at her home, Georgetown rd. Lunch was served after the social period.

A Christmas dinner party is planned for Dec. 15 in the home of Mrs. Harry Sherwood, Georgetown rd. Members will give each other gifts.

Corps Has Benefit

A benefit card party was planned for Friday, Dec. 2, when members of the Women's Relief corps met Friday afternoon in the Memorial building. Tentative plans were also made for a Christmas dinner party Dec. 16.

Marriage Licenses

Daniel Junior Percy, 22, salesman, and Betty Louise Dickey, 21, clerk, New Waterford.

Roy Albert Eynon, 30, potter, and Diana Beatrice Smith, 23, cashier, East Liverpool.

INVITE TRUMAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—The brotherhood of Railway Clerks yesterday invited President Truman to address their golden anniversary convention in Cincinnati, Dec. 29. George Harrison, president of the brotherhood, said the President did not commit himself immediately, but expressed hope he could arrange his schedule to attend.

The Euphrates is the 25th largest river in the world, with a length of 1700 miles. The Indus has an identical length.

Leetonia Fire Fund Stands At $331.81

LEETONIA, Nov. 19—The volunteer fire department, which recently started a fund with which to buy a resuscitator, reported this week that the total receipts from the sale of "Fire Stamps" is $331.81. About $400 is needed for this project. Donations are still being received.

Rev. John A. King of Warren will speak at the Presbyterian church Sunday at the 11 a. m. service.

Mrs. D. E. Fair entertained the South Side Sewing club at her home Friday evening.

Mrs. C. J. Stewart entertained bridge club associates at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. William Atkinson, Mrs. M. J. Gaughan and Mrs. John A. Arnold were prize winners. Mrs. H. D. Arnold will entertain the club in two weeks.

James Mollenkopf, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Mollenkopf, a student at Ohio State university, Columbus, has been elected president of the pledges of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Radio Call Letters

The call letters KA4785 were assigned this week to the Leetonia police department radio by the Federal Communications commission, according to Marshal Henry Gibson. The radio, used in connection with the county sheriff's and other county police radios, was secured through community contributions and has been in operation more than a month.

Masons Elect

William R. Phillips was elected worshipful master of the Leetonia Masons in a lodge election this week. Other officers who will serve during the coming year are:

Senior Warden, Merle Davis; junior warden, Willard Davis; senior deacon, Jarry Ginther; junior deacon, John King; secretary, F. R. Aiken; treasurer, Lester Fisher; Tyler, Lloyd Berg and trustee, Elmer Johnson. Johnson is retiring worshipful master. Dec. 5 has been set as the date of installation ceremonies.

The Reading club was entertained at a 1 p. m. luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. F. R. Narragow, with Mrs. Charles Stelts and Mrs. Ethel Patterson associate hostesses. Mrs. Willard E. Ferrall, of Columbiana, reviewed the book, "West of the Hill," by Gladys Hasting Carroll.

The Ruth Bible class of the Methodist church was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. H. McDonald Thursday evening, with Miss Anna Hephner associate hostess.

On School Paper Staff

Miss Margery Mawhinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Mawhinney of S. Lincoln ave., student at the Mary A. Burnham school, Northampton, Mass., has been elected to the staff of the school newspaper, The Emburette.
Miss Mawhinney was a recent guest at a dance given by the students of Williston academy.

Books Attract Interest

An exhibit of new books at the public library, marking the observance of International Book week, has been attracting interest, according to Mrs. Harold Vincent, librarian.
Patrons of the library have ordered some of the books for Christmas gifts, while others have requested reservations.

To Preach Sermon

Rev. R. J. Hunter, pastor of the First Baptist church, will preach the sermon at the annual Community Thanksgiving service at 10 a. m. next Thursday in the Emmanuel Lutheran church.
Salem churches are cooperating in this service, which is sponsored by the Salem Ministerial association.

Police Dance Thursday

Tickets for the 13th annual Salem Police Benefit ball are on sale with all members of the force. The event will be held at the V. F. W. hall at 9 p. m. Thursday.

Bill Richards band will provide music for dancing and a floor show.

SPONSOR LISBON SHOW

LISBON, Nov. 19—Rehearsals are going forward for the home talent minstrel show sponsored by the local aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles. The show, "Laff It Off," will be presented in the high school auditorium Nov. 24-25, with proceeds to be applied to the annual Christmas party for children sponsored by the lodge.

Churches Cooperate In Aiding Needy

Salem churches, represented in the Salem Ministerial association, are cooperating in "Operation Clothes" as a special project to stress the acute need for good used clothing for the destitute of the world.

Rev. George Beebe's trip to England and Europe brought out to him and to other Salem ministers, who have heard his story, the great need for wearable clothing that exists in many countries.

Rev. Beebe said "Americans must not forget that only in this country are there so many agencies assisting the poor and needy. These helpful organizations do not exist in many lands and only through cooperative efforts such as the Salem Ministerial association is now making, are these needs met. Here in America where we want style, we must not forget that in many parts of the world people just want clothes—any kind, as long as they are wearable.

Pastor Cites Aims

"It is the aim of the association to try to have each family in the local churches send at least one good suit, dress or coat to the needy.

"The clothing will go directly to the people, with whom missionaries and foreign pastors are working, and is not shipped to governments of countries who may exploit this help. The clothing is being sent overseas through the American Friends Service committee and will be packed for shipment in Philadelphia.

"Today we read much of the social and political changes taking place in the Palestine area.

CHILD SCALDED.—Nurse Louise Champion attends 19-month-old Martha Rebecca Bailey in an Indianapolis hospital after she was accidentally scalded by hot soup in her home. The child toddled into the kitchen, clutched her mother's skirts and jabbered. But those sounds turned to screams of pain as her mother, Mrs. Martha Bailey, turned with a kettle of soup in her hands and accidentally spilled it on her tiny daughter. She suffered second-degree burns on her neck and face.

There are also 900,000 homeless refugees in that area who have nothing. There are millions more in need in Germany, Austria, France, Italy, Greece and in the Far East in India, Burma, China and Korea.

"The specific needs are: Men's suits, overcoats, underwear, wearable shoes, socks and shirts; women's coats, sweaters, sturdy walking shoes, practical dresses, stockings and underwear; children's good used clothing and shoes of all kinds; baby's layettes and in general blankets, quilts, sheets, piece goods and mill ends."

These items may be taken to the Salem churches any time during November.

Mullins Employees To Get Free Aid

Members of the Sharon Steel Relief association, which includes employees of Mullins Manufacturing corporation's Warren and Salem plants are receiving free hospitalization and relief coverage during November and December.

The association's board of directors, who previously had waived November dues, announced that surplus funds allows continued waiver of members' dues in December.

The board also voted to waive group life insurance premiums for December. Members holding insurance policies have not paid premiums since August.

Average monthly relief benefits, paid by the Association amounts to $52,000, and the average monthly insurance premiums are about $16,000.

Mullins' Salem plant representatives to the association's board of directors are C. F. Paumier and Michael Schuller. Those on the plant committee include Neil Grisev, Robert Culbertson, Arnold Greene, W. F. Bolen, Ed Maley, Paul Stratton, Merle Caldwell, Fred Koenreich, Gus Bauman, Wilbur Schrom, John Weber, Jr., Robert Tubbs and Lorin Beck.

Officials Convinced "Killer" Is A Wolf

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 19—(AP)—Authorities believe they have an answer to the "mysterious beast" sought in raids on Clark county sheep flocks—a wolf.

County Dog Warden Ralph Shelton said last night he and other hunters now are "positive" the animal is a wolf. One hunter shot it twice yesterday. The animal jumped high in the air, howled, rolled on the ground, then raced through a flock of sheep and disappeared, Shelton said.

Hunters have been seeking the animal about two weeks, during which time about 30 sheep have been killed or attacked.

Theaters

Sunday and Monday at the State Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, two book clerks, are forced to join a safari to Africa when they boast about being familiar with the Dark Continent. Others in the cast of "Africa Screams" are Frank Buck, Clyde Beatty and Max and Buddy Baer.

Ingrid Bergman and Joseph Cotton star in "Under Capricorn" at the State Tuesday and Wednesday. The story is set in an Australian colony made up mainly of convicts and follows the efforts of a freed convict trying to help his dispirited, weak-willed wife regain her confidence.

"Everybody Does It" with Paul Douglas and Linda Darnell is at the State Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This film is made up of the hilarious adventures of an untalented, frustrated soprano and her house-wrecking husband who develops a smashing baritone voice.

At the Grand Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the feature is the spiritual story, "The Prince of Peace." This sincere picture is the film of Lawton, Oklahoma's famous Easter pageant.

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans appear in the story of a herd of wild horses used to smuggle diamonds by racketeers entitled, "Golden Stallion," at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The Batman and Robin try to rescue Vicki from the treacherous Wizard in Chapter 10, "Batman's Last Chance!" of the serial, "Batman and Robin the Boy Wonder."

Alcoholics Anonymous Has New Assignment

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19—(AP)—Alcoholics Anonymous have been given a new job in Cincinnati.

They will be permitted to enter the Cincinnati workhouse to see what they can do with the drunks committed there.

This was announced yesterday by Dr. Carl A. Wilzbach, city health commissioner.

He had discussed the matter with Anthony Sauer, workhouse superintendent. Sauer, he said, had agreed to set certain times when Alcoholics Anonymous workers may go to the workhouse and talk with prisoners who have given some indication that they want to be helped.

Radio Stars To Be Judges For Quaker

"Fibber McGee and Molly" of radio and screen fame have been secured as judges for the 1950 Quaker King and Queen, according to Barbara Hughes, yearbook editor.

A boy and girl representing each of the four classes have been selected by the pupils here and photographs are being sent to the judges whose real names are Marian and Jim Jordan.

Nov. 29 has been set as the date for initiation of new members into the High school Thespian troupe. Informal initiation will be held in the auditorium from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., with formal ceremonies to be held at a later date.

George Cusack is president of the club. Other officers are: Vice president, Willard Stamp, secretary, Donna Schoss, and treasurer, Shirley Hill.

On Radio Program

Members of the school debate team, Jerry Harroff and Lawrence Vasilevich, both seniors, will appear Nov. 27 on a radio debate over station WKBN. A Student Congress program, the subject is federal scholarships.

The High school Band Mothers club will sponsor Howard Pardee, school instrumental music director on a trip to the Midwest Band clinic Dec. 15-17 in Chicago.

A father and mother party will be given by the club Dec. 7 in the Memorial building. The program includes instrumental numbers, songs and readings. It will be a coverdinner affair.

Mrs. Hobart Butcher is president of the club.

Paul Burke, cartoonist and chalk artist will appear in a High school assembly Nov. 29 in
